MOLECOLA

Modular seating system for public areas

This versatile modular system consisting of only four organically shaped elements gives a touch of originality and evokes a much more informal and playful atmosphere to the public waiting and lounge areas.

The attachable elements offer a wide variety of possibilities for pleasant space creativity. The result is an harmonious language of forms expressed by its sinuous curves and circles.

A further special feature: you can sit or relax on different sides of the sofa. This creates new spatial landscapes ideally suitable for lounges, atriums and waiting areas.

HUB

Modular seating system for public areas

HUB is a system of sofas and other elements, which can be recomposed, generating different transit or waiting areas in a game of soft interlocking shapes. The advantage of this a modular sofa system is the possibility to create a more fitting solution to the area's requirements by fitting together the available modules into the desired configuration.

The modules include, but are not limited to: armrests, backrests, seat elements, ottomans, planters and magazine rack.

These are available in different finishes and colours.
